the hundreds upon hundreds of Princetonians who over the Holiday Season opened their hearts to others in contributing more than $3,560 to the Sixteenth Annual Town Topics Christmas Appeal. As we enter upon the New Year, in a world shaken by fears and grave doubts, it is heart-warming to know that Princetonians in the space of 16 years have now given $44,000 so that thoughtful and specialized assistance can be extended to youngsters thirsting for happiness and a sense of security. For their understanding generosity; for thinking twice of our community's human needs; for refusing to permit bewildered boys and girls to remain in the maze of despair where tomorrow is all too often just another cold, gray morning; these wonderful neighbors of ours are our nominees for Princeton's

WHAT'S AHEAD?

For Borough, Township? New Year's Day at high noon is the traditional re-organization time for Borough and Township governments. It's the time to swear in new officers and re-affirm the pledges made by old, and to hear from the two mayors what the past year has accomplished and what lies ahead for the future.

The full text of Borough Mayor Henry Patterson's New Year's Message appears on page 14. The remarks of Township Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman are somewhat more informal. (Mr. Fairman was tapped again on New Year's Day to serve as Mayor of the Township. The Borough selects its mayor by the usual electorate process. The Township elects a five-man committee of peers who choose a chairman from their own number. He is "Mayor" of the Township.)

We Cooperate. In his New Year's Day address, diffidently styled as "remarks," Mayor Fairman chose to point out the areas in which Township and Borough had cooperated during 1962. It was a year of increasing cooperation between the two closely-linked municipalities, and Mayor Fairman chose six areas of cooperation to highlight particularly.

● "We were happy," said Mayor Fairman, "that Mayor and Council of the Borough resolved to assist the Green Acres program and to join with the Township in this forward-looking program which will afford benefits to those living in the Borough as well as to Township residents."

The Green Acres application was made this fall as a joint Borough-Township action.

● "A second area of large dimensions for joint consideration by the two governing bodies is the future development of Community Park," Mayor Fairman said. He reminded Princeton that there is general agreement between Borough and Township on the Community Park development plans.

"The Borough Recreation Committee and the Township Recreation Commission will present a description of these plans to the citizens of the two municipalities at an early date in the new year." Mayor Fairman said, adding that there would be a time-table for capital disbursements.

● In the pressing area of sewer problems, Mayor Fairman pointed to the review begun during 1962 of the Sewer Operating Agreement. He said that Borough and Township hope for the establishment of a formula for apportioning the cost of future construction, and that the Township in particular looks toward a "transitional period" in which operation of the sewers will gradually be turned over to a full-time staff.

TIES GROW CLOSER: Both Mayor Patterson (left) and Mayor Fairman noted in New Year's Day addresses that municipal cooperation is steadily increasing in Princeton.

● Mayor Fairman then pointed to the work done during 1962 by the Board of Trustees of the joint Borough-Township Library in searching for a solution to the site problem presented by the need for a new public library for the whole community of Princeton.

● "Regardless of ownership," Mayor Fairman warned, "Borough and Township will need to consult with the Princeton Water Company to review the recently-completed report of a consulting engineering firm." Mayor Fairman cited the need for definite steps to ensure quality and quantity of water and, so far as the Township is concerned, the extension of water services to areas now not served.

● It was during 1962 that Princeton's first joint study of municipal government operations was launched. The Joint Committee on Municipal Operations has already met twice. What has or has not been accomplished during these two meetings is an unknown quantity because meetings are executive and Mayor Fairman reminded the New Year's Day audience in Township Hall that the study may well last until 1964.

Running along parallel with it are the school studies undertaken by both Boards of Education. Mayor Fairman said that the Township Planning Board, concerned with problems of traffic circulation and pedestrian safety inherent in the proposed Walnut Lane location of the new Borough school, is asking for Borough cooperation in making traffic counts.

In the Borough. Less concerned in his address with Township-Borough cooperation, Mayor Patterson says that "one of our objectives during the past year was to improve relations and cooperation between the Borough and the Township" and points to agreement on a continuing formula for division of the joint fire budget, a matter which had occupied many hours in previous years.

part, Mayor Patterson is pleased with the joint application for Green Acres funds, and suggests that this first application is "just a start" and that "we should purchase much more additional land."

Recreation and the problem of sewerage occupy Mayor Patterson also. He refers in his address to "the very major money request in the immediate future for much needed (recreation) facilities," and to the need for rewriting the present three-party sewer agreement so that each party—Borough, Township and University—will separately finance its share of new facilities.

When we were asked if we knew how long it had been since an enemy had directly attacked the continental United States we began searching our memory of early American history. But before we could come up with a guess we were shown an authentic report about an actual attack on our West coast in 1942. On February 23, 1942, a Japanese submarine surfaced off the coast of Ellwood, California, and shelled an oil refinery there. It was the first time an enemy had attacked the continental United States in about 128 years. This is the isolated type of thing that can happen in all kinds of circumstances in life. It may happen only once in a lifetime but if you begin to think about all of the unusual troubles that can occur in an automobile you know that regardless of how improbable it may be it is wise to be prepared for anything and everything. The only way you can be prepared and fully protected against the 1001 things that can happen to your car is, in the first place, to buy it from a proven reliable dealer, and then to have it conscientiously maintained by him. Assignments in the Township gave the sewer, water, incinerator, Joint Sewer assignment to William Wilson; police, fire, dogs, court, Open Space and Civil Defense to Maurice F. Healy, Jr.; health, welfare, recreation and the Joint Committee on Municipal Operation to John O. Green; zoning, engineering, the Planning Board to Carl C. Schafer and administrative duties to Mayor Fairman.

Mr. Healy was elected vice-chairman of Committee. It was also announced that the three regular public meetings of Township Committee would be reduced to two in 1963. They will be held the first and third Mondays. On the fourth Monday, Committee will meet executively, or with representatives of the Borough on various matters as they arise.

GODFREY HEADS COUNCIL

Named President for 1963. Dr. Elwood W. Godfrey was elected president of Borough Council at its reorganization meeting Tuesday in Borough Hall. He succeeds William H. Walker II, who remains a member of the governing body.

Ralph D. Hulit was sworn into office for a 12-month term, to complete that of Albert A. Austen, who resigned. It is expected that Mr. Hulit will be one of the Republican candidates on the ballot this year. Councilmen Alfred E. Sorenson and Mr. Walker also took the oath of office for new three-year terms.

Committee appointments made by Mayor Patterson were: Dr. Godfrey, finance and fire; Mr. Sorenson, public works; Mr. Walker, police and welfare; Joseph R. Wood, defense; Alan W. Carrick, recreation; and Mr. Hulit, health.

Robert F. Mooney and Gordon D Griffin began new one-year terms as Administrator and Attorney, respectively. Samuel Davison was sworn in as fire chief for 1963, succeeding Alfred W. Packer. The benediction at the noon-time ceremonies was given by the Rev. Robert P. Murray of the Aquinas Foundation.

POE TO RETIRE

As Head of First National. John P. Poe, president of the First National Bank of Princeton for 22 years, has announced that he will retire at the expiration of his present term of office on Thursday, January 10.

Mr Poe will continue as a member of the board of directors and will remain as a consultant to the bank. His successor will be announced at an early date.

His career, which began in 1922 in New York, included service with the Federal Reserve Bank, the National Bank of Commerce, the National Bank Examining staff of the Second Federal Reserve District and the National City Bank, all of New York. He came to the First National in Princeton in 1935 as assistant to the president.

Formerly treasurer, vice-president and president of the New Jersey Bankers Association, Mr. Poe is presently a member of the organization's executive committee. He has also acted as state vice-president for the American Bankers Association and served a term on its executive council.

A member of the Banking Advisory Board of New Jersey, he is chairman of the board of the Hun School, a trustee of Westminster Choir College and a director of several area organizations. He has taken part in such community activities as the Princeton United Community Fund, serving as chairman, vice-president and president.

John F. Hoff, Jr., chairman of the First National's board of directors, praised Mr. Poe on his record of service. "The bank under his leadership," he said, "has had a remarkable record of growth in size and service to the community and its board of directors wishes him many happy years in the future."

AFTER 22 YEARS: John P. Poe will retire next week as president of The First National Bank.

HEARING IS SCHEDULED

On Water Company. A public hearing on the proposed sale of the Princeton Water Company to the Elizabethtown Water Company is scheduled for 11 a.m. this Thursday in the State House Annex, Trenton. Several Princeton residents have indicated that they will attend to listen and to ask questions.

The hearing will be held before members of the Public Utilities Commission.

"I don't feel that the people of Princeton have had a chance to find out about this sale," said Miss Esther Dilworth, who had requested the P.U.C. to hold Thursday's hearing and give Princeton residents a chance to ask questions and express their opinions.

"This may be the best thing in the world for Princeton, and it may not," Miss Dilworth commented. "Personally, I lean strongly toward municipal ownership of the water company, but this may be impossible. I just want to know more about it."

"Not for Sale" — but Sold. Miss Dilworth, who was a Democratic candidate for Borough Council in 1961, pointed out that Raymond F. Male had inquired into the possibility of municipal ownership of the water company in 1956 when he was on Borough Council, and was told that the company was not for sale.

"This whole transaction may be perfectly proper, and I am sure that it is," said Miss Dilworth. "but when you are told that the company is not for sale, and then you suddenly read in the papers that it has been sold to a company whose vice-president is the new mayor of Princeton, you do wonder about it."

Miss Dilworth said she hoped that the hearing would bring out the answers to several questions.

"I would like to find out about possible rate increases," she said. "I'd like to know if private ownership is indeed the best thing, whether Elizabethtown is the best company to sell the Princeton Water Company to. I'd like to know who is going to be in charge, and whether the same people will be retained to run the company, and whether we are going to have more 'say' than we have under the present ownership."

Township Committee has asked its administrator, Joseph R. Nini, to attend the hearings. Robert Mooney, Borough administrator, has said that probably no Borough official would be present.

HILLSIDE TO HAVE SEWER

But Committee Is Divided. After a cliff-hanging debate which made it look for a time as if the whole matter would have to be started all over again, Township Committee passed the Hillside sewer ordinance by a 4-1 vote. Committeeman Maurice F. Healy, Jr. was the dissenter.

About 35 Township residents came to the Saturday morning public hearing, chiefly to ask questions about how much the sewer would cost. The ordinance appropriates $344,000, but it does not say precisely how much will be paid by the Township and how much will be assessed to the property owners involved. This is because the Township still does not have all the engineering data.

Buck, Siefort and Jost, the engineering firm, is scheduled to present its final report on January 18. After these final figures have been processed by the Township engineering department, Committee plans to introduce an amendment spelling out who pays what.

Committee had promised that the Hillside ordinance would be passed in 1962 so that construction could begin as soon as possible, and Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman reminded Committee and the audience on Saturday that the sewer was being built to abate a serious health hazard.

He also said that the two new Committeemen, John O. Green and Carl C. Schafer, who took office January 1, had met with Committee and agreed that the ordinance should be passed now and amended later.

What Is the Cost? "The ordinance is very vague on the exact cost," said Philip Golden, whose business establishment at 759 State Road is affected by the measure. "Why not wait until you can get a breakdown of all these costs?"

Gordon Griffin, Township attorney, said he thought Mr.

Golden's question was pertinent and pointed out that the real question was whether the Hillside people wanted construction of the sewer delayed until cost figures were available.

"Let's not delay," urged A J Cevera 5 Hillside Avenue. "I have faith in this Committee that they will amend the ordinance so that assessments will be in line."

It has been estimated by some Township officials that assessments for the sewer might be between $2,000 and $4,000 per hook-up.

Other objections were raised by George Alexander, 857 State Road, who protested that the new line would cut a swath through his woods. He also said that sewer overflow, if it occurred, might pollute the stream that flows behind his property, roughly parallel to Route 206.

Homer Zink, representing the Princeton Girl Scout Council, also called attention to the fact that the sewer line, as it travels through Girl Scout property on its way to the sewer treatment plant, would cut a slice out of the wild woodland maintained by the Girl Scouts. Sewer lines are normally laid clear of trees to keep roots out of the pipes.

Objections Raised. It was after Committeeman John S. Mount's motion to adopt the ordinance that committeemen began to debate its merits among themselves. Mr Healy, silent until this point, spoke vigorously against passage of the measure, and Mr. Cook joined him.

The debate was vital because the ordinance, as an appropriation measure, required four "yes" votes to pass. With Mr. Cook and Mr. Healy both dissenting, Committee would be able to muster only three.

"I am perfectly willing to wait," Mr. Healy said. "The long-range implications here are very broad. the new sewer may eventually serve 300-500 houses and this means zoning and school problems, and I think we should have a reasonably educated estimate of what the cost will be to the Township at large before we act."

"This ordinance will cost the taxpayers and the Township a great deal of money," Mr. Cook said, "and a month and a half delay until we have final engineering data will be well worth it. We should know exactly what we are getting into financially."

"I would feel guilty if I hadn't done all I could to abate this health hazard," Mr Mount replied to Mr. Cook and Mr. Healy. "By law, the assessments can't possibly rise higher than the increase in benefit to the properties, anyway. Time is extremely important here."

Mayor Fairman then called on one of the new Committee. Mr Green, who rose from the audience and said, "I have restrained myself with difficulty. I cannot see how we will know enough more after the final figures are in to change the basic purpose of this ordinance, which is to get the sewer started. We have heard absolutely no objections to the sewer, as such."

Mr Cook then said, "I will not obstruct Committee, and I will cast a "yes" vote. I am somewhat reluctant to do this, but I do it as a supreme act of faith."

Mr Healy declined to go along with Mr. Cook, and the 4-1 roll call passed the ordinance.

VARIANCES ARE GRANTED For Seven-Story Building. Princeton University's seven-story office building has been approved by the Borough Zoning Board. The $1.5 million structure, planned for the corner of University Place and College Road, had been previously aproved by the Planning Board in a 5-3 vote.

In granting the requested variances for the high-rise building, the board stipulated four conditions: 1) that a zoning lot or "open space" be allocated for the building; 2) that College Road be retained permanently as a public access road from University Place as far as the lane now leading to Baker Rink, that the lane be improved and widened as a public road and that access roads from Faculty Road and Elm Drive be provided; 3) that there will be permanent access to the building from College Road for firefighting and other emergency vehicles; 4) the building must be used exclusively by Princeton University.

College Road figured in the Zoning Board's approval of the undergraduate dormitories, to be located across from Woodrow Wilson Hall. The board specied that College Road, as far as Washington Road, and Elm Drive be maintained in "suitable" condition for service and emergency vehicles.

Apartment Building. In a third action, the board approved the applion of Leonard LaPlaca to convert the 45-year-old former dormitory at Spring and Tulane Streets into a 23-unit apartment house.

The exterior of the building is not to be changed, with the exception of the addition of fire escapes. Mr. LaPlaca is also required to provide 22 adequate nearby off-site parking spaces, as well as two parking spaces on the property.

The 50-room building will be divided into eight three-room aartments and 15 one-and-a-half room units. Mr. LaPlaca will take possession of the $37,500 building from Princeton University on January 15. The apartments are scheduled to be ready for occupancy in August.

BOROUGH LIFTS CHARGE Against Cousins Co. Charges of selling liquor to a minor, brought against Cousins Company, Inc. of 51 Palmer Square by Borough police, have been dismissed by the Mayor and Council.

Council, which has the power to suspend or revoke liquor licenses, doubted the credibility of the police witness, Sigurd Peterson, 19, of Jefferson Road, and stated that the evidence did not bear out the charges.

At 8:50 p.m. on November 3, Sgt. Michael Carnevale spotted young Peterson carrying a case of beer in the areade leading from Palmer Square to the parking lot in the rear. Questioned by the police, he stated he was taking the beer

The combination of gale winds and near-zero cold which marked the end of 1962 and the arrival of the New Year froze a variety of animate and inanimate objects in these parts. Fortunately, none of the casualties were permanent.

A gradual end to the unusual chill began Tuesday, and temperature readings as high as the mid-thirties are expected Thursday and Friday. Not much more than that, however—a cold January is in store.

News Of The THEATRES

MARCEAU COMES HERE

For S.R.O. Show. Like all performers who give one-man shows, Marcel Marceau is hounded by the constant, hungry need for new material to keep his audiences satisfied. He is luckier than most, because he is such a transcendent artist and such a masterful technician that he can present the same material again and again and still infuse it with freshness and with vibrancy.

However, in assembling new material, he has sometimes picked out too much detail and sought too consciously for effect. This was evident Wednesday night in the performance he gave before a standing-room-only audience in McCarter Theatre.

"Contrasts," for example, presented a montage of people at a carnival: a strutting, parading soldier and a cripple, a child on the carousel and a man before a firing squad, and so on. The episode was too long, too diffuse and too crowded with detail to achieve.

It is significant that there was considerable audience laughter at the point where M. Marceau portrayed a man before a firing squad—it was simply not clear whether this particular "contrast" was intended to be tragic or comic.

Again in "Tribunal," M. Marceau, displaying his incredible virtuosity, portrayed a judge, a bailiff, two lawyers and a prisoner, characterizing each with skill and wit, but incorporating into the vignette so much detail that it became hard to follow.

It is in the simple perceptions that M. Marceau is particularly fine. As the amorous "Bip" as a skater, he drew sympathetic laughter from everyone in the audience who had ever trembled, weak of ankle, on a glassy lake. In "Bip the Big Game Hunter," he did again the delightful arabesque in which he plays both a hunter and an ape, disappearing behind a boulder as the hunter and reappearing a fraction of a second later as the hunter. This is exquisite legerdemain, fascinating to watch in its consummate skill.

Other vignettes offered by the artist during the evening were "The Cage," in which he explores the shrinking dimensions of his prison; "Remembrances," in which he is an old man recreating the waltzing days of his youth; "The Kite," with its soaring lyricism and its amusing deflation at the end; "Bip at a Society Party," with M. Bip resplendent in tight gloves and coat, deliciously drunk and more reminiscent of Chaplin than in almost any other offering; "Bip As a Painter," where meticulous detail was again a deterrent to full expression; "Bip As the Tailor In Love," perhaps the weakest of the offerings.

Also, "Bip Makes Dynamite" in which M. Marceau acknowledges his debt to the great silent film comics, Langdon, Keaton and Chaplin; and one of the greatest Marceau creations, "The Mask Maker," in which the mime shows us a craftsman trying on masks and mysteriously trapped in a grinning clown's face which he cannot remove.

It is here, with a foolishly grinning face and a body moving in anguish, that Marcel Marceau combines the technical skill and the artistry that make him a truly great mime

COUSTEAU FILM NEXT

In Kiwanis Series. The Jacques Cousteau film, "Exploring the Red Sea," will be shown at 8 p.m. on Tuesday at the McCarter Theatre. Owen Lee, master driver of the expedition ship, will narrate.

Capt. Cousteau, author of the best-seller "The Silent World," and producer of the award-winning film of the same name, displays in the Red Sea film his jet-propelled diving saucer, which carries his men to depths of 1,000 feet. The film also shows the work of the deep sea camera sled, used to photograph marine life at the bottom of the ocean trenches.

The divers observe for science and bring striking new techniques to undersea explorations. The film marks the close of the current adventure film series, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club.

WEST GERMAN FILM SET

A harsh criticism of "la dolce vita" in West Germany, the film has English sub-titles. Members of the sponsoring group, the German Club, will be admitted free; admission is 75 cents for the general public.

"ENDGAME" COMING

To Murray Theatre. Samuel Beckett's "Endgame" will be given next Monday at 8 p.m. in Murray Theatre by the Drew University Players, appearing under the auspices of the Wesley Society of Princeton University.

Following the Players' appearance in the Beckett work, there will be discussion and refreshments. A small admission fee will be charged in order to defray expenses.

FOLK SING PLANNED

By Theatre Intime. Theatre Intime has scheduled an evening of improvisational folk songs at Murray Theatre on Tuesday evening, January 15. Alan Arkin, a member of the Second City cabaret troupe, will be among the performers.

Mr. Arkin, who has appeared with the Second City players several times last year at Murray, performed on the initial fall television program of David Susskind's "Open End" in October. The Arts at Princeton and Theatre Intime are sponsoring the program jointly. Tickets go on sale Thursday, January 10, and telephone orders will then be accepted at WA 4-0355.

SUNDAY SERIES PLANNED

In Lambertville. The color film "Gilbert and Sullivan," starring Robert Morley, will open the Sunday night series of films this weekend at the New Strand, Lambertville.

Lawrence Olivier's "Henry V" will be shown on January 13. Others to follow include "The Royal Ballet," "Richard III," "L'Avventura," and "The Barber of Seville."

The Russian cultural exchange film "Ballad of a Soldier," is playing this Thursday through Saturday.

PLAYHOUSE

Gypsy (now playing) was one of the all-time hit musicals several years ago on Broadway. The film version is nearly intact—the music is all there, the high time and low time. The occasionally emotionally charged story and the contagious spirit of fun.

Rose, the domineering show business mother, is well played by Rosalind Russell. Natalie Wood takes over the show as Louise, who accidently becomes Gypsy Rose Lee, the most famous stripper of them all. Karl Malden is appealing as Herbie, a former candy salesman, who for love of Rose turned agent, handy man and hopeful husband-to-be.

The plot, in spite of the title, revolves around Rose, the terrifying stage mother. The scene is show business 1920 and 1930, when vaudeville was king. And there was burlesque —and Gypsy Rose. A showstopper is "You Gotta Get A Gimmick," in which three strippers show Gypsy how it should be done, and a dance sequence by Paul Wallace of the Broadway show. The costumes are beautiful and the music is memorable. Comment lively, sophisticated, musical comedy.

Two For the Seesaw (opens January 9) See review below.

PRINCE

Gypsy (now playing) see review above

Two for the Seesaw (opens January 9) William Gibson's fascinating play about two ill-assorted people whose paths cross in New York has been transplanted to the screen with much skill. Shirley MacLaine has made of Gittel Mosca (from the Bronx but living in Greenwich Village) an unforgettable character. Robert Mitchum is excellent as the Nebraska lawyer who has left a wife who will not permit him to be his own man.

This strange pair accidentally meet in New York, try to find happiness with each other, and encounter a mountain of human problems. The dialogue is witty and the situations at once amusing and pathetic. Comment: a sophisticated comedy, skillfully played.

GARDEN

Legend of Lobo and Two Tickets to Paris (now playing). Walt Disney has again gone into the open country in "Legend of Lobo." This time the story is of the king of the wolf-pack which was the scourge of cattlemen of the southwest during the late 1800's.

Told in song and narration by Rex Allen, with the assistance of the vocal group known as the "Sons of the Pioneers," the famous Ernest Thompson-Seton story emerges with great tenderness. Lobo is the son of El Feroz, the Fierce One, so-called because of his skill as a hunter and leader. The scenes of Lobo and his brothers and sisters are amusing and fascinating.

When his parents are killed by cowboys, Lobo becomes a loner. In time he is a legend, by reason of his fearless pursuit of the cattle he believes to be his rightful prey. There is ample evidence of the incredible patience and high skill of the Disney photographers in the scenes of the wolves in the normal activity of their kind. Comment: effective documentary.

"Two Tickets to Paris" is strictly teenage stuff. It's light, amusing and filled with music. Singers Joey Dee and Gary Cro-by star. There's a shipboard romance and a scrambled plot. A group called the Starliters sing and dance in the fashion of the moment, which is not for the sacrolliac fanciers. Comment: not for the elderly.

To Us

HEEDLESS OF . . .

The Wind and Weather. Aghast at the post-holiday devastation we noticed on a recent visit to the mirror, we decided to begin the New Year with a visit to Thorne's wind-and-weather department, follow it with a tour to Delores the hairdresser and maybe wind things up by calling on Travelex, a travel agent who can get us away from everything, and fast.

Tussy, a friend of the Thorne Pharmacy, is vending Wind and Weather products these days, and just in time. For $1, you may have a 13 oz. unbreakable bottle (you can drop it on the ice without harm) of lotion that usually costs $2, or a six-ounce glass (you CAN'T drop this one) for 50c that usually costs $1.

Hand-cream fanciers will settle for a $1 eight-ounce jar which usually costs $2.

Helena Rubinstein, never outdone by anybody, comes along with Young Touch hand lotion at $1.50 for the $2.75 size, and with Ultra-feminine, the face cream with progesterone, now $3.75 for a $6 value. This cream event is a once-a-year sale, so hurry right down, as they say in the commercials. Ultra-feminine is a cream that requires only half a teaspoon per night, so it will last you until next year's once-a-year sale, if you're prudent.

Going Up!

Elsewhere in these columns you will read about travel to Japan for the 1964 Olympics. We learned this week from Travelex that the Japanese, as you might guess, have been building hotels as fast as they can lay brick on brick (do they build brick hotels in Japan?) to take care of all the javelin throwers and lady shot-putters who will turn up for these events.

This led to an exploration of the hotel situation in general, and Travelex tells us that the hotel capacity of every city in the world is on the up: Athens, Hong Kong, Belgrade, the Dalmatian coast, Madrid, Barcelona—all are providing bigger and more exciting places for tourists to stay.

London, once a five-story limit city, has recently raised the roof, and the result is hotel skyscrapers. Some Londoners are worried, however, Travelex tells us, lest gaping tourists peer down from their towers into the sanctified courtyards of Buckingham Palace.

Matchabelli, a once-a-year man, too, suggests his Polyderm medicated skin freshener and astringent, plus a compensating cream—whatever that may be—for face and throat. You get a $5 value for $3.50. This cream is designed to correct the skin damage that can accrue from freezing weather (you know how a concrete sidewalk will crack from freezing and cold? Maybe cheeks are the same), from chafing winds and from the dry heat we all live in when we get inside the house.

Frances Denney's multi-layer moisturizer describes itself. The $8.50 size is now $5. Her lip moisturizer ($2.50) goes on under lipstick. The moisturizer is a greaseless emulsion that goes on under make-up in the daytime, and without makeup at night, disappearing into the skin like water into a dry flower-pot.

Coty's once-a-year offering is a collection of moisturizing products for dry skins. You save up to 50% on many of these preparations. Max Factor calls his an "active moisturizer" and says it is absorbed in 30 seconds. (Comes in a non-porous container, presumably. A $2.50 value, it is now $1.25.

From Revlon, Thorne's has "Moon Drops" moisture treatment, which combines a cleanser and a moisture balm and which does not give you a complexion like the surface of the moon, for goodness' sake.

Du Barry has cleansing cream, freshener and masque, among other incidentals, all on an annual spree. To give you an idea, the Vibrance Creme Masque, regularly $3.50, is now $2 and the cream, regularly $2.50, is now $1.50.

NOUVELLE VAGUE

We Needed One. We are writing at the moment about Delores' hair-dressing accomplishments, not only because they are considerable, but because she has a small surprise for her regular customers which she is keeping quietly to herself. You can find out about it when you go there. "There" being 230 Nassau.

A Princeton hairdresser for 12 years and a shop-owner for nine, Delores knows her way around the Princeton head. If you want to try her out, stop in for one of her free consultations on problem hair (do try to make it Tuesdays or Wednesdays when she is not quite so busy) and see how much she can do for you. No obligation, you understand.

Trained in advanced classes in styling, color and permanent waving, Delores is equipped to give you the new wave you need, from Eska, Mora or L'Oreal and will obtain for you the ingredients to give any other kind of permanent you like, if you just give her a few days' notice.

Her fee is $3.50 for a shampoo and set, and she includes in this amount whatever special treatment you may need, for dry hair, dandruff, or whatever.

Like any hairdresser, Deloires would like to have you make an appointment, but she can usually fit you in even though you drop in unexpectedly. Patricia, her sister, is now with her permanently, and Barbara is available, also.

The shop is open from 8:30 a.m. every day except Monday.

Delores has a Lawrenceville branch at 2687 Lawrenceville Road which is open on the same schedule, with a 9 p.m. closing on Friday nights. The Princeton shop is open until 9 on Thursday nights. Tele-

DRUGTAX
A SERVICE TO TAXPAYERS

Ever wish, at income tax time, that you had a complete record of every cent you spent for drugs and drug products throughout the year—and how much of it was legally deductible?

That kind of a record could save you money. And that kind of a record can now be yours, every year, absolutely free of charge.

This new service is called DrugTax. We are making it available to all of our customers immediately, free of charge, as another way of saying "thank you" for their patronage.

You would be surprised at the number of drug and medical supplies that can be of a deductible nature—items such as antiseptics, aspirin, cough and cold preparations, and hundreds of others.

Indeed, the American taxpayer has been losing millions of dollars annually because he hasn't been aware of how many drug items are legally deductible.

But you must be able to offer proof of purchase in order to claim such items in preparing your federal income tax return. And when you buy from us, you get that proof—in the form of an annual record, mailed in February.

Come in today and let us tell you more about DrugTax. And from now on, buy all of your drug and medical supplies from the store that gives you the free DrugTax record.

Question of the Week

Question: What, in your opinion, was the most important event of 1962?

Where asked: Around town

Edward Smith, Rahway, manager of First Princeton Corporation, 4 Charlton Street. The series of space achievements that were accomplished by John Glenn, Carpenter and Schirra I feel the country received a big uplift from these flights and they regenerated confidence in the American people and its technicians.

Stanley Malewski, Irvington, registered representative for First Princeton Corporation. The comeback of the stock market and the people's renewed confidence in American industry.

Miss Vicki Stachowicz, 277 Walnut Lane, Princeton High School freshman: The Cuban Crisis. I think we came through it nicely. Everyone was worried at first but I think we are all thankful the way it turned out.

Lewis Silvis, 554 Edgewood Avenue, Trenton, maintenance man for Biology Department, Princeton University. In my opinion, it was the showdown with Castro. I think our stand stopped an invasion that was likely to come

Howard Boughey, 223-A Eisenhower Street, graduate student, sociology: Cuba was probably the most exciting but actually I would pick the Chinese invasion of India which forced India to take a non-neutralistic stand, solidifying its union with the West and at the same time widening its breach with the Soviet Union. But most importantly, it cleared up the public image — on both sides of the Iron Curtain — of China as the real threat to world peace, both for the United States and Russia.

Miss Jean Reed, Princeton-Hightstown Road, junior at Ripon College, Wis.: I think the most important thing was the decision of President Kennedy to blockade Cuba. I think it convinced Khrushchev of how sincere we were in our determination to take action and to use all our strength if necessary.

Hans Klardie, 33 Witherspoon Street, film-maker for On Film, Inc.: I am from Holland and to me, the most important or perhaps I should say the most unfortunate was the death of Queen Wilhelmina.

Clyde Tipton, 9 Gordon Avenue, Lawrenceville, teacher, Lawrenceville School: All I can think of is the obvious one —the Cuban crisis. The way it was handled and the way it turned out, which, I think, was rather successful.

Mrs. Delores Pocock, Franklin Park, secretary for computer center, Princeton University: Probably the Cuban crisis. I have had a feeling for many years that we have lost respect not only for our own government but we have lost prestige among European powers. We simply were not standing up for our rights the way we should have. I feel that this one incident — Cuba — has changed all that. If we had done something about Hungary or Berlin, something more emphatic about Korea, I think we would be in a much better position than we are today. But the fact that we are starting now to stand up to the Russians, I think has increased our morale tremendously.

Paul Brunner, 171 S. Harrison Street, freshman at Notre Dame High School: President Kennedy's speaking up to Khrushchev in the Cuban situation. It showed our ability to stand up to Khrushchev and that we weren't afraid of the Russians.

Mrs. Barbara Forte, Theological Seminary, housewife: I think probably the Cuban crisis. At least it's beginning to make us all realize the importance of Cuba. Cuba is the closest to the United States of any of the so-called hot spots. It is making us think a little more. I think before a lot of people were just passing Cuba off, thinking it would never develop into anything.

Lewis Simeak, Route 27, Kingston, freshman at Franklin High School: The Yankees winning the World Series from the Giants. I'm a Yankee fan.

Miss Irma Bergmann, 39 Chestnut Street, student at New York School of Interior Design: The Cuban crisis. First of all it presented a major crisis to the world; the whole world was involved in it. Now that all of the Cuban prisoners have been released, I feel that everything turned out for the good

Bruce Wetterau, 43 Southern Way, junior, Princeton High School: The Cuban crisis and firm stand I think that was the best thing that could have happened to the United States. It increased its prestige both world-wide and domestically.

TOWN TOPICS' Inquiring Reporter drew a variety of answers this week when he asked for opinions on the most important event of the past year. The Cuban crisis led the rest, but the replies were by no means unanimous.

Editors and publishers across the nation, polled by United Press International, reached the same conclusion—that the demand by President Kennedy that Soviet Russia withdraw its missiles from Cuba rated top billing. Other events, in order named in the UPI poll:

John Glenn's space flight, the desegregation of the University of Mississippi, Red China's invasion of India, Kennedy's forced cutback of steel prices, the $20.8 billion break in the stock market last May, babies deformed by thalidomide, Russia's feat in launching twin astronauts simultaneously, the Billie Sol Estes scandal and Marilyn Monroe's death.

MUSIC
In Princeton

THIRD CONCERT SET

In University Series. The Marie Prentice Memorial Concert will be given by Ruggiero Ricci, violinist, and Leon Powers, pianist, on Monday evening at 8:30 in McCarter Theatre. It will be the third production in Series I of the University Concerts.

Mrs. Prentice, for many years a member of the Ladies' Music Committee and later of the University Concerts Committee, was instrumental in raising funds that were added to the Philena Fobes Fine Memorial Fund. The endowment has aided in making it possible for the University Concerts to sponsor programs.

Mr. Ricci played the Mendelssohn Violin Concerto at the age of 9 in his New York debut with the Manhattan Symphony Orchestra. The following season he performed in a Carnegie Hall recital, and has since averaged 100 appearances a year.

Included in his McCarter program will be Niccola Porpora's "Sonata in G major," Paul Hindemith's "Sonata for Violin Solo, Opus 31, Number Two" and "Sonata Number Two in A major, Opus 100" by Johannes Brahms. In the second portion of the program, he will perform Prokofieff's "Sonata in F minor, Opus 80" and Paganini's "Variations on the Aria 'Nel cor piu non mi sento' for unaccompanied violin."

IN CONCERT TUESDAY: Cellist David Wells will give a recital Tuesday at Westminster Choir College.

Seats on stage are priced at $2.50 and are now on sale at the Princeton University Store. Fifty standing room tickets at $1.50 and any remaining stage seats will be sold at the McCarter box office at 7:30 the evening of the performance.

THE WELLS TO PLAY

In Recital. David Wells, Princeton cellist, and his wife, Janet, pianist, will appear in recital Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Westminster Choir College in the Playhouse. The recital is open to the public without charge.

Mr. Wells' program, third in a series of faculty recitals being held at Westminster, will include music by Frescobaldi, Beethoven and Cilea.

As soloist and as cellist with various chamber groups, Mr. Wells has toured extensively in the United States. He has appeared with the Columbia Concert Trio, the Manhattan Trio and with orchestras in New York and other cities along the eastern seaboard.

Described by critics as "outstanding . . . undoubtedly the finest young cellist in the United States today," Mr. Wells has won the American Artist Award and the Harold Bauer Award, among other citations. He is first cellist with the Princeton Symphony Orchestra, and a teacher at Miss Fine's School.

BALSAM CONCERT SET

At Princeton Seminary. Concert pianist Arthur Balsam will present three sonatas next Thursday in the second of the Community Artists Series sponsored by Princeton Theological Seminary. The concert will be held at 7:45 p.m. in the campus center auditorium.

Mr. Balsam will play Haydn's "Sonata in E-Flat Major, No. 52," Beethoven's "Sonata in A-Flat Major, Opus 110" and the "Sonata in F-Minor, Opus 5," by Brahms.

A native of Poland, Mr. Balsam has appeared as a soloist with the London Symphony, the BBC Symphony, the Philharmonica Orchestra of London, the Warsaw Philharmonic and the NBC Orchestra of New York. He has also appeared with the Budapest, Vegh and Kroll Quartets.

Question Of The Week

Mrs. Arza Ron, Lakeside Apartments, chemist: The Cuban blockade. Never since World War II has the world been so close to war. I feel anything that brings the world to extreme anxiety such as Cuba is important, but it isn't healthy.

Mordecai Rabinovitz, 67 Wiggins Street, chemist: The Cuban crisis. Whenever you think of nuclear war, you get afraid. I am very happy the way it turned out; we're all safe again, more or less.

Brad Kuhn, 14 John Street, Pennsbury High School, junior: The most important thing was the Cuban blockade. Russia was bringing missiles and rockets into Cuba that could have been easily used against the United States at any time. Our action stopped this threat.

DEAR TRAVELEX

Welcome to the New Year!

We thought it would never get here. Between the little ones (some of them are actually bigger than we are) and the winter weather dropping snow and slush on us it always seems as though we just won't make it through to springtime.

Those dyed-in-the-wool ESCAPEES! Trotting off to the sunny shores of the Mediteranean beaches or the West Indies—that's what really get's to us.

Bunch of nuts, that's what they are. They just ups and leaves us hard-working Princetonians right smack here in the middle of winter. That's what!

WELL! Bless their miserable sunbaked hides.

Topics Of The Town

from a friend's car to his own car, parked on Nassau Street near the English Shop.

Later, he told police he had bought the beer at Cousins. He was unable to identify positively any of the Cousins salesmen present at the hearing: Raymond Grover, store employee for 26 years; Gabriel LeJambre or James J. Davidson.

The Beer Was Cold. Sgt. Carnevale testified that he did not actually see young Peterson carrying the beer out of Cousins, but it was a cold night, he said, and the beer was ice cold. He stated that he saw Mr. Grover in the store that evening. Neither Mr. Grover nor his fellow employees were able to state positively that he had been there.

None of them remembered seeing Peterson in the store that evening. They said that they had questioned a number of customers who looked under age.

Peterson, who looks older than his 19 years, was questioned closely by Mayor Henry S. Patterson, Council members and Borough Attorney Gordon Griffin as to why he had changed his story.

He denied police pressure or promises of special treatment. "I sat in the jail cell for about two hours and did a bit of thinking and decided I should tell the truth." He stated under questioning that he had recently answered theft charges in the Township. He told the Council that he had held odd jobs this fall and was returning to an engineering school in Indiana this next term.

Princeton Inn Plans Annex. Council passed an ordinance changing the zoning of part of the former Ulyat property on Alexander Street to commercial.

This will enable the Princeton Inn, present owner of the lot, to proceed with its plans to build a two-story annex, which will run at a wide angle from the present Inn building across a corner of the land. The remainder of the Ulyat plot will remain zoned residential, as a "buffer area."

TWO MORE CANDIDATES

For Borough School Board. John A. Buckland, joint treasurer of the Borough Elementary Schools PTA, will run for the Board of Education next month. Dr. Elmer G. Homrighausen, senior member of the board, will seek his fifth term.

Mr. Buckland has been an active member of the PTA for a number of years. He has also served in scouting, camping and church activities in the community. An engineer with Shell Oil Company, New York City, he lives at 36 Stanley Avenue.

Dr. Homrighausen announced his candidacy rather reluctantly. Professor of pastoral theology at Princeton Seminary, he said, "I have so much work to do, but my friends keep after me about this. So I will do all I can."

The third candidate is Dr. Robert A. Lively of 39 University Place, professor of history at Princeton University.

Two incumbents will not seek re-election: Mrs. Peter J. McCrohan, wife of the Borough chief of police, and Dr. Jeremiah S. Finch, English professor and former dean of students at the University. Mrs. McCrohan served two terms and Dr. Finch three.

The election will be held February 13. Deadline for filing canidates' petitions with William H. Rhodes, secretary of the Board of Education, is 4 p.m. this Friday. Ten signatures are required on a petition.

Mayor Patterson's Recommendations for 1963

(Following is the complete text of the New Year's Day address at Borough Hall by Mayor Henry S. Patterson.)

Again, it is my pleasure and privilege to present the customary annual New Year's Day message of the Mayor to the Council and to the citizens of the Borough of Princeton.

The past year has been a busy one for the Borough and much has been accomplished. At the earliest possible moment in the year, an end was put to the threat of using Urban Renewal procedures here in Princeton.

This was first "must" action to return Princeton to sensible, local control. It meant that we recognized and accepted the realignment of Jackson Street as a Borough responsibility, and that this limited objective should not encompass a large area just for the sake of Federal funds. It also meant that the concept applied to proposed revisions to the Borough's Master Plan was changed to reflect the desire for the Borough to remain a residential, educational center.

To expedite and to assist in making possible a new Jackson Street, a citizens group has been formed and has agreed to advise Council as to the exact route of a new alignment. I am hopeful that 1963 will see the completion of this street from Witherspoon Street to John Street. As for the Borough's present Master Plan, I will, at the first meeting of the Planning Board, recommend that a sub-committee of the Board be set up to meet separately from regular Board meetings and to expedite the completion of the Board's deliberations on possible revisions.

By-Pass Still Delayed. Another "must" is the truck by-pass, for which a hearing was held during 1962 to fix the route. It is disappointing to have to say that no route has yet been fixed, although months have passed since the hearing was held.

During this coming year, we will have to patiently and persistently work with the State and the local municipalities through which the by-pass will go to bring about agreement on the route and then to push for its financing and speedy completion. We have been told that this would soon be accomplished, but soon is getting longer and longer and our patience is being sorely tried.

One of our objectives during the past year was to improve relations and cooperation between the Borough and the Township. This has been accomplished.

Already, one tangible benefit from this better understanding of mutual problems has been an agreement on a continuing formula for division of the Joint Police Department budget. In years past, unbelievable hours were spent horse-trading this issue.

Additional Funds Needed. There will be, as there was last year, many other problems and projects which the Borough must consider during 1963. Some, if not the great majority, will require the expenditure of funds in large amounts, much larger than has been the case in recent years.

The necessary funds will come, for the most part, from tax revenues, either directly in one year or through a bond issue which must be paid off over a period of many years.

It would be ideal if the Borough had limitless resources, then, new roads, sewers, recreational facilities, a new library, a new borough hall, parking yards could all be undertaken and completed simultaneously and at once. But, the Borough does not have limitless resources.

In fact, our resources are quite limited and cannot be greatly increased unless we are willing to change our entire outlook as to the future of Princeton Borough. For instance, we could have and we could still encourage the bulldozer and make way for a tight complex of apartments and office buildings. By this means, our tax revenues would increase and incidentally so would our costs.

However, we have decided against this, so that we must do with what we have or can develop within an overall plan for the future of the Borough. And, in doing with what we have, I must mention that we have the problem in the Borough of properties disappearing from the tax rolls by being transferred to a tax exempt status.

Our educational institutions are important to the Borough and they have the right and duty to expand, they have been practical in their consideration of what they believe to be taxable property and in paying directly and indirectly for municipal services for their tax exempt properties. But, these institutions must, and I know will, consider carefully the effect of the further loss of ratables on the community without some offsetting increase in revenue to the Borough.

Do not misunderstand me. Financially, the Borough is exceedingly healthy. It can afford more of the things that have been proposed, but how much more and what should the timing be? These are questions that Council will spend long hours deciding during 1963.

Specifically, what is before us in terms of extraordinary expenses. The most important in terms of dollars are as follows, listed alphabetically:

Borough Hall—Within a few weeks, I will recommend to Council that the Borough retain the services of the architects suggested by a special committee of Council, to prepare preliminary plans for a new Borough Hall to be erected on the Miss Fine's School site. I expect that during 1963 the necessary steps can be accomplished that will permit "the trade"—if you will—of the Miss Fine's School property for the present Borough Hall properly. It is my opinion, shared, I know, by members of Council and by many, many people that I have talked with, that such a trade will be of great benefit to the Borough.

Library—After many years of searching, I am confident that the Joint Library Board will in 1963 make definite recommendations to the Township and to the Borough as to the site for a new library building and may even break ground during the year. There is no question as to the inadequacy of the present library, as far as physical features are concerned.

Open Space—We certainly hope that in 1963, our application made jointly with the Township for State Green Acres funds will be approved. The Township and the Borough can then use this money along with municipal funds to acquire Open Space to be enjoyed by residents of both municipalities. But, this application is just a start. We should purchase much more additional land.

Parking—Of all the projects that we must work on, the acquisition and development of parking yards is the most frustrating to me and members of Council. We are caught between the demands for increased parking facilities on the one hand and unbelievable property values on the other, values which are out of line with present assessments.

Mathematically, under these circumstances, new facilities cannot directly pay for themselves under our schedule of parking rates. I believe, however, that such facilities can be justified and in fact paid for by the increase in taxable value for a commercial property in the center of the Borough with adequate, nearby parking facilities as opposed to commercial property without such facilities. During 1963, we must continue to acquire, whenever possible, additional land for interior lot parking along Nassau Street. Incidentally, the Borough's efforts to provide parking must not be considered a complete substitute for the property owners' obligation in this regard.

Recreation—The Borough's Recreation Advisory Committee has recommended that the Borough join with the Township in developing extensive recreational facilities. This, too, will be a very major money request in the immediate future for much needed facilities. The need is particularly pressing when you review the use made of neighborhood parks, in particular Marquand Park, and observe the overcrowding which often exists.

Sewerage Facilities—Again one of our jointly-operated facilities, with the Township and the University, is faced with the need for substantial improvements and additions. These are proposed to be made to the sewer plant, to the sewer trunk lines, and to the incinerator. One of the additional problems in this regard will be to rewrite the present three-party agreement, so that each party will separately finance their share of new facilities. Under the present agreement, the Borough does the financing and consequently uses its credit and bonding limits.

These are just six projects, and I could have listed more, whose total costs will be well over one million dollars. My purpose in mentioning them is not to cause alarm or to say "no" to these or any of the others that have been proposed, but to make it clear to everyone that we have many demands for money for worthy causes, so many that we cannot give an immediate "yes" to each one at the same time. The Council will have to assign priorities. In this way, those projects not given immediate priority will be reached in due course.

To work on the many problems that lie ahead for the Borough, we are fortunate to have dedicated and experienced Borough employees. This dedication and competence is typified by our Fire and Police Departments. The fire record during the past year is not merely a matter of good luck, it is also a matter of effective fire personnel and their fire prevention program. To the Police Department should go special credit for their recent open house exhibit explaining equipment and departmental procedures, as well as for their fine police work in solving some recent, well publicized knotty problems.

Another indication of the experience of Borough employees is that there was only one change during the past year among supervisory employees and that was caused by the legal requirement that Mrs. Alice Schaanel spend full time as Clerk of the Magistrate's Court. To succeed Mrs. Schaanel as Welfare Director, the Borough was most fortunate in being able to appoint Mrs. James Ahrens. The only other significant personnel change of the year was the creation of the much-needed post of Borough Administrator and the selection of the Borough Clerk, Mr. Robert F. Mooney, to fill the post.

We also have a Borough Council that will continue to put in many hours of hard work, not just at regular council meetings, but also at committee meetings and special meetings. I regret very much that Councilman Austen finds it necessary to resign from Council effective today.

His reason for resigning is typical of his and of the Council's dedication to the Borough, in that Mr. Austen did not want to remain a Councilman if he could not afford more time for the Borough than that just necessary for Council meetings, and his duties at Rutgers University will no longer allow him this extra time. To succeed Councilman Austen, I will, in a moment, propose for your consideration Mr. Ralph D. Hulit. I know that he will be a worthy successor to Mr. Austen.

Last year, on New Year's Day, I ended with a promise for the future, a promise to do the best job that I possibly could and a plea for your help. During the past year, I have done my best and have greatly appreciated your help.

During the coming year, I intend to continue to be available in Borough Hall all day each Tuesday, not only for a weekly meeting with the press, but to be available to all who wish to meet with me. I also, repeat my promise of last year—to do the best job I possibly can—and I again ask for your assistance in the year ahead—a most important year, for it is the 150th Anniversary of the incorporation of the Borough.

It's New To Us

phones are WA 4-5667 in Princeton, TW 6-0736 in Lawrenceville.

And don't forget that surprise.

WE'RE LEAVING

By Slow Boat. The Grace Line people have this new freighter, and all we can say is, if you've been reading Joseph Conrad, you'd better get your ideas up to date. Grace Line will give a February send-off to the new ship called the Magdalena—one of two just alike—dispatching her on a cruise from New York to South America.

Apparently Grace, canny old girl that she is, has a nice little coffeebean business on the side. She takes down industrial products, including tourists, and brings back coffee beans and assorted Latin crops, all in this posh freighter that only accommodates 52 tourists to every cup.

There are already three freighters operating the "casual cruise" line (the phrase is Grace's) and the two new ones will gradually replace the others.

We found out about all this activity from Travelex, 195 Nassau, where we collapsed in a chair and agoooned that we wanted a little warm weather, please.

We found that Grace has a South American or Caribbean cruise leaving New York every Friday, and that people who do not like freighters, even the glossy kind, can go on the new Santa Rosa or the new Santa Paula.

Incidentally, if you're planning to go to the Olympics in Japan in 1964, don't just sit there! Japan Airlines and Tokyo hotels are collecting reservations even now for the period between October 9, and October 25, 1964, and the Japanese have fixed things so that you cannot buy tickets to the games or even put your nose inside the stadium, unless you have confirmed hotel space or certified housing.

You may choose between a standard hotel, western style, or ryokans, which are Japanese style inns, with only 25-30 rooms. The rooms in ryokans are very impressive indeed, we understand, and if you're going all that way, why not try one? Travelex has the reservation application forms and all necessary information. But hurry, man, hurry!

BUSINESS In Princeton

BUSINESS WAS GOOD

Most Stores Happy. "Things were great, great; much better than last year, probably about 15 percent ahead."

With this smiling comment, a Nassau Street merchant summed up his view of the Christmas season and went on to say that, so far as he was concerned, the ghost of the discount house had been laid to rest.

"My customers just got fed up with standing around in those discount-house crowds, and being pushed around," he said, "so they came here and found that many of my prices were just as low."

A neighbor on Nassau Street, although not quite so confident, expressed a similar view. "We had the best Christmas we've had since the first really big year of the discount houses," he said, "there's no question that you feel their effect, but all I can say is, we were just about cleaned out of our small appliances and the Saturday before Christmas was the busiest Saturday we've had in over two years."

Another store in the same field reports a firm sale situation in small appliances—mixers, blenders, hair-dryers and the like, even though long-standing customers came in to say that could get the same things cheaper at a discount store.

One Princeton store has met the discount menace by dropping two popular lines that can be bought more cheaply at a discount house, and carrying only higher-priced brands which are not available to the discounters.

That Slow Start. Most shopowners agreed that business, as a whole, was slow in starting. One store reported this slow start, then added: "But we were really busy the last two days: it was like a mad house in here."

A store specializing in toys reports a slow start, then a pick-up to the level of last year, with little discount competition.

"We were a bit worried in October because things were so awful," said one shop that relies heavily on Christmas trade, "but then, business began to pick up and it turned out to be excellent. I think we are probably ahead of last year."

A women's specialty shop reports a drop from 1961, but another says, with a broad smile, "I can't complain, can't complain at all. Things were very, very good indeed and my highest priced items moved just as easily and as fast as the others."

Another shop, with a glamour line of luxury items, reports business strong right from the middle of autumn. "Our expensive evening bags went first—to women who wanted them for themselves," says the owner. "The modestly-priced ones were bought for gifts!"

Who Buys What? Parenthetically, a shop-owner or two makes a comment on buying habits. One women's shop, specializing in tailored classics, reports a heavy demand for such frivolities as red lingerie and black lace panties. "It's the men who come in and ask for these things—the women never buy them," the owner says.

Against this comment is the observation of Raymond F. Male, owner of Male's Book Shop, who says that his customers bought books of substance this Christmas, "spiritual, thoughtful books instead of the usual Christmas glitter."

Mr. Male, celebrating his second Christmas as a shop owner, joins with two other newcomers to say that it was a good year. Landau's, in its first year at a new Nassau Street location, is "most gratified" by public acceptance, and so is Nassau Shoe Tree, in its second year on Palmer Square.

Not So Happy. Against these satisfied comments are a few that reflect another side of the scene. One shop, with a "carriage trade" had a 3-4 percent decline from 1961.

It's owner attributes this decline to the fact that steel prices were not allowed to rise. This in turn, the owner believes, caused the stock market slump which sliced the dividends that would ordinarily have been spent in this shop.

"Princeton is a dividend town," the owner commented, "and when dividends are cut, business here suffers."

A specialty shop reported a 10-15 percent drop from last year, and another store that had decided to discontinue part of its inventory entirely, found business a little slower than last year, but we expected it to be, and we were well-satisfied."

Other comments: "We had a good season. I guess we all did" (liquor store) . . . "We had all we could handle" (hairdresser) . . . "Lots more customers in the store this year" (appliances) . . . "Ten percent increase, but then, I had a great deal more to sell the customers this year. Each year, we show an increase." (furniture).

TOWN TOPICS, in reporting good news from other business firms, can report the same from its own 1962 Christmas. Two pre-Christmas issues of 56 pages each were the largest newspapers ever published in Princeton. Advertising volume was up 17.2 percent over 1961.

FIRM CHANGES NAME

Postal Increase Due

The postal rate increase will go into effect on Monday.

Postage rates for first class letters will be increased from four to five cents; air mail will go up from seven to eight cents. Both rates are for one ounce.

First-class post cards and air mail cards will increase a penny, to four and six cents respectively. One saving: the extra one cent charge for stamp booklets has been dropped. Booklets will now be sold at their face value.

Postmaster Charles F. Murray urges that the right postage be placed on all letters. He warned that insufficient postage will be collected from the addressee or the letter returned to the sender. Additional information on the new fees is available at the post office.

Continuing to offer service to institutions and individuals, the firm will be directly connected with the main office of Clark, Dodge of 61 Wall Street, New York City. The facilities of the New York office will thus be immediately available here.

Included among the additional facilities is a market department to aid in placement of blocks of securities, handling large orders or servicing trading accounts. The Princeton office also has a private wire system to offices in 80 cities in the United States and Canada and complete over-the-counter equipment. Moreover, the Nassau Fund, directed by Mr. Hoisington for five years, will be transferred to the New York company.

Frank E. South's Garage, Inc., was located at the 4 Nassau address for more than half a century. The late Mr. South was Princeton's first Cadillac and Oldsmobile dealer. All repair and maintenance services will continue to be offered at 2 Nassau Street.

TAX SERVICE OFFERED

By McGrath Pharmacies. The two McGrath pharmacies, 2645 Main Street, Lawrenceville, and 1296 Lawrence Road, Trenton, have announced a new service to provide customers with an annual record of drug purchases for federal income tax purposes.

The new service, DrugTax, will be provided free of charge and is available now. The system uses data processing equipment to keep a record of purchases that may be deductible in computing federal tax returns.

Each purchase will be recorded on "memory" tapes which will later be fed into computers. At the end of the year, DrugTax, Inc. will mail McGrath customers a record of the total amount which may be deductible in computing tax returns.

"Many taxpayers have not taken their proper deductions or have not taken the full amount allowed, because they have not had proof of purchase or did not know what items are deductible," said C. W. McGrath, Jr., owner of the stores. There are literally hundreds of drug items that are deductible, according to Mr. McGrath. Additional information and application blanks for the free service may be obtained at either store.

ELECTION UNDERWAY

For Chamber of Commerce. The election for the board of directors of the Greater Chamber of Commerce and Civic Council is under way. Ballots, which have been distributed, must be returned to the Chamber office by 5 p.m., Monday, January 21.

Unopposed candidates for the board are Fred M. Blaicher, president, Palmer Square, Inc.; George W. Conover, partner, Conover and Nassau Motors; Romeo R. Favreau, vice-president, Electronics Associates, Inc.; Samuel M. Kind, manager, LaVake's Jewelers; Robert P. Papino, farm manager, agricultural division, American Cyanamid Company, and Loar L. Quickle, operations manager, Princeton University Store.

JAYCEES GIVE $2,500

To Mercer County "Y." A check for $2,500 was presented last week to the Mercer County Federation of YMCA's by the State Junior Chamber of Commerce.

GIANTS PLUS EAGLES EQUAL $2500 FOR YMCA: Raymond F. Male, president of the Mercer County YMCA Federation, receives a check for $2500 from Clifford G. Embley, vice-president of the state Jaycees. Looking on are Cornelios Arnett, president of the Princeton Jaycee Chapter (left) and Charles Schaefer, a member of the YMCA Board of Direction. The money represents a portion of the sum raised by the Jaycees when they sponsored an Eagle-Giant professional football game in Palmer Stadium last September.

The funds represent a portion of the more than $100,000 raised by the Jaycees through the New York Giant-Philadelphia Eagle exhibition football game held in Palmer Stadium last September. The Jaycees plan to donate the remainder of the sum to non-profit area service organizations.

Raymond F. Male, president of the Mercer County Y board and State commissioner of labor and industry, accepted the check at a luncheon at the Princeton Y. Mr. Male said, "We intend to invest this money in the further development of youth program services in the Mercer County area.

"The Jaycees and the Mercer County YMCA organizations have joined together in an investment which will pay greater dividends in our communities," he continued. The federation that Mr. Male heads supplied some 600 ushers for the benefit football game.

Clifford G. Embley, vice-president of the Jaycees, presented the check and said that "the Mercer County YMCA's and the Jaycees have community service as one of their outstanding purposes. Projects such as the Football Classic have served in great measure to help to bring the two organizations more closely together."

IVY SEASON TO START

For Tigers at Philadelphia. A basketball team starting three sophomores will play the toughest game of its league season as its opener Saturday night Princeton will meet Pennsylvania in the Palestra, facing a Quaker quintet that has compiled a fine 7-1 record and is favored to oust Yale as the Ivy champion.

A virtual sellout of the 6,500-seat Palestra is expected for the contest, which starts at 7:30. The game will be broadcast over the Princeton University station, WPRB-FM.

Starting four seniors and a junior, the latter benching Bob Purdy, co-captain of the team last winter, Penn is taller than the Tigers and is capable of finishing its games with five players in double figures. John Wideman, recently-named to a Rhodes Scholarship, is the captain, while other starters are Sid Amira, J. D. Graham, Dave Robinson, all seniors, and junior Ray Corazo.

Penn's only setback in its first eight games was to fifth-ranked Illinois, winner of the Holiday Festival Tournament in Madison Square Garden. The Quakers lost that one by 98-66, but their conquests include overtime victories over St. Joseph's and Navy, as well as defeats of Boston College, Duquesne and Vanderbilt.

Pressure on Quakers. Actually, the burden of proving it is good enough to win Saturday is on Pennsylvania, not Princeton. To earn the Ivy title, a contender must be able to count on taking all seven of its games at home, plus a normal minimum of four on the road.

If the Quakers win Saturday, Princeton has another shot at them in Dillon Gym on February 2. But if the Tigers open their season by upsetting Penn on its own court, it could just be that they'll go on to wrap up the championship before the schedule runs its full course early in March.

TIGERS SPLIT IN SOUTH

Rally Upends Davidson. A pair of extremely fine performances in North Carolina gave Princeton an even break last week, the Tigers following an 85-74 loss to Duke with a 79-70 upset of well-regarded Davidson. The latter holds a three-point victory over the Blue Devils, listed among the top ten teams in the nation.

A superb 33-point performance by sophomore Bill Bradley told much of the story in the come-from-behind victory over Davidson at Charlotte before some 8,100 uproarious fans. As has been the case all season, however, Captain Art Hyland and Bill Haarlow provided great support, the former hitting for 21 points and the lanky Haarlow for 17. Hyland was fine for nine from the foul line.

Once again, it was from the free-throw line that Bill van Breda Kolff's boys won, as they followed the course they had against Army, Navy and Rutgers. On each occasion, they have made up a deficiency in field goals with highly accurate foul shooting.

Against Davidson, they connected on 23 out of 30, while the losers (who led them in field goals, 29-28) were no better than 12 out of 17. The Tigers committed only 13 personals to 19 for Davidson, although Bradley fouled out for the first time in his varsity career.

Seven Straight Set Shots. Held by extremely close guarding to 11 points in the first half, which ended with Davidson enjoying a slim 38-35 margin, Bradley gradually broke the game open when play resumed. After three straight field goals by Haarlow gave Princeton a 44-42 advantage, Bradley hit on his next seven attempts — all sets from well outside — and the Tigers rolled to a 12-point advantage.

Davidson, which had shot a sizzling 62 percent in the first half, cooled off considerably as Bradley got hotter. The big sophomore was 11 for 12 from the foul line and his 22 points in the final half were well in excess of a point-a-minute ratio before he left with his fifth personal foul.

Despite the fact that they had played a rugged game 24 hours earlier, the Tigers improved measurably in the second half against Davidson. The losers' 6-8 Fred Hetzel hit for 15 in the first period but was pared all the way to four when the outcome hung in the balance.

Don Davidson, charged with guarding Bradley, lost efficiency after picking up three personals in the first half and made only seven points all evening. Van Breda Kolff went with seven players, Bradley, Hyland and Haarlow scoring all but eight of the winning 79 points.

Rally against Duke Fails. Down by 42-28 at the intermission, and by 17 points midway through the second half, Princeton cut Duke's margin to six with five minutes to go in the game at Durham. More than 9,000 packed the stands as the Tigers worked toward one of the biggest upsets of the season, but the Blue Devils' balance and a fine bench kept them in front.

Guarded by Art Heyman, a prospective all-American,

BUSYBODY: Billy Hill has averaged 33 saves in Princeton hockey team's eight games this season. His play has been a constant feature of Tigers' battles against strong opponents.

Sports In Princeton

Bradley scored 24 points and gave his usual eye-filling performance In addition to the usual personal attention he got from the opposition, pressure was also on him because he had first planned to enroll at Duke before switching to Princeton in the summer preceding his freshman year.

Harlow was assigned the task of guarding Heyman and found the going rugged, fouling out soon after the second half had started. The Tiger senior contributed 13 points before leaving the floor.

Hyland was credited with 12, and a highly-welcome 13 came from junior Bill Howard, who sat out last year's action with a knee injury. For Duke, Heyman made 27 but the evening's high scorer was junior Jeff Mullins, who hit for 28.

Princeton held early leads of 9-4 and 11-8, but Duke then made four in a row and was never headed again. The victors were particularly hot from the floor, connecting on 51.6 percent of their field goal attempts.

The Tigers were not far behind, shooting at a 45.3 clip on a count they had never seen before and throwing a solid scare into a team that has been ranked as high as second nationally this season. Twenty-four hours later, Duke trounced Wake Forest, 113 to 87. It was a highly satisfactory performance despite the defeat, which snapped a Princeton streak extending to 12 games over two seasons.

(For a report on Monday's game against Pittsburgh, see page 22)

SKATERS GO ON TOUR

Four Road Games On Tap. The unpredictable Princeton hockey team, decisively beaten in six games and decisive victor in two, heads into the new year with more trouble lurking around the corner. In the next nine days, the Tigers will play four contests away from home, and if they break even, it will be a solid accomplishment.

Action starts this Thursday night at Hamilton, N. Y., when Coach Norm Wood's skaters meet a surprisingly strong Colgate six. The Red Raiders are 5-1 to date, own a victory over a St. Nicholas Club good enough to beat Harvard, and are favored to add Princeton to their list of victims.

Williams at Williamstown Friday and Army at West Point next Wednesday precede a trip to Providence to play Brown on January 12. Of these three opponents, Princeton is most likely to defeat Williams, although Army is by no means out of its class.

It will be a tougher assignment to handle Brown on its own rink, despite the 6-2 victory over the Bruins here last month. The Providence skaters were brimming with overconfidence as a result of their 4-4 tie with Harvard, and will be powered by a strong revenge motif in the return contest.

A game which will go far to point the way in the 1963 Ivy race is scheduled for Saturday at Ithaca. Cornell, pretender to the crown which Harvard has considered its own for virtually a full decade, plays host to the Crimson, and a Cornell triumph might just signify the end of an era.

It's a bit premature, but the impression is beginning to form that possibly Harvard's domination of the Ivy circuit is nearing an end. The Cantabs had a sub-par freshman team last year, may not be loaded with newcomers this season either and have surprising ties with Brown and Army on a none-too-impressive record to date. Harvard hockey will almost invariably be above par, but unless it is good enough to rank with the best in the east, some of the better Ivy outfits (Cornell, Dartmouth, Brown) will catch up with the Crimson this year or next.

BOWLING NOTES

Balestrieri Widens Lead. Balestrieri increased its "B" League lead last week to 12 points over Kase Kleaners. The leaders have a 70-point total and are ahead of third-place Jugtown by 16 and fourth-place Ivy Inn by 22.

Fred Procaccini rolled a 247 game to capture high single-game honors by four pins over Howard McWhorter. McWhorter had a 243-214-180—637 series for the top set of the week. With scores of 235, 198 and 202, Mike Zeccola trailed in the three-game category by two pins.

Other 200-plus scores were turned in by Bill Bathie, 232; Ed Hoffman, 216; Bob Scuderati, 212; Jack Lucey, 211; and 208; Tom Friel, 208; Harry Kahny, 208; and Frank Delneso, 206. Nick Rossi collected an even 200 pins for ten frames.

In the Women's Industrial League, Jefferson Plumbing swept three games and added two more points to its lead. The team now has 80 points, six up on Decker's Dairy and 20 up on Bill's Men's Shop and Mutual Benefit Life.

Betty Frazee Top Scorer. Betty Frazee led the league's scorers with a 183 game. She was followed closely by Margaret Drummond, 177; Ruth Kopliner, 175; and Lillian Bur-

News Of The CHURCHES

TRENDS IN THE CHURCH
(First in a series of commentaries by three Princeton clergymen, President James I. McCord of Princeton Theological Seminary; Dean Ernest Gordon of the University Chapel, and the Rev. Kenneth S. Dannenhauer, president of the Princeton Pastors' Association.)

Undergraduates Ask. Dean Ernest Gordon finds the most graphic demonstration of change in the young people's attitudes towards church has come during the last few months. He comments:

"The Cuban incident of October 22-28 brought many of face to face with matters of ultimate concern. This was also true of many undergraduates. The old and comfortable certainties had been shattered.

"The question was raised, 'What is the most important thing, or experience, in life?' As a result of this kind of question, many of our young people are more open to the Good News, which is the Gospel, than almost any other generation.

"What survives is not success, security and sex, conceived in purely materialistic terms . . . but faith, hope and love. These are the framework of the authentically personal or spiritual life.

"The events of our times are being used of God to bring us closer to Himself and to one another. Faith in Him, and His promises is the only security that this, or any other, generation may have.

"I like the words that King George VI repeated to the troubled people of Berlin in his Christmas broadcast of 1940:

" 'I said to the man who stood at the gate of the year, 'Give me a light that I may tread safely into the unknown,' and he replied, 'Go out into the darkness and put your hand into the hand of God. That shall be to you better than light and safer than a known way.' "

(Next Week: Dr. McCord)

Sports In Princeton

rough, 170 Sara Rose bowled a 164 for the only other game that surpassed the 160 mark.

Play finished for the first-half of the season in the Tri-County Firemen's League with Lawrenceville in first place by one point over Kingston. Sweeping three games, Kingston moved up from fourth place to gain a 57-point total. Dutch Neck could manage only one victory and dropped into a three-way tie for third place, four points off the pace, with Rocky Hill and Mercer Number Three.

The top game, a 218, was bowled by John Donaldson, who edged Bip Davison by four pins. Other scores of 200 or better were by Gib Ireland, 207; George Kirby, 204; and Frank Stofko, 200.

In "A" League action, Cooper and Schafer, with 60 points on the season and three victories last week, increased its lead to eight points. Grover remained in second place, ten points ahead of Yeoman's and 12 in front of Knights of Columbus. Rudy Schultz had the top game, a 209, and was followed by Bill Parke, 203, and CConrad Daniels, 200.

ROAD TRIP TARES TOLL

At Tigers Lose to Pitt. The third game played on a five-day, 2,000-mile road trip was a bit more than Princeton's touring basketball team could handle Monday. Pittsburgh staging a second-half drdive on its own court to win, 71-62.

The well-regarded Panthers fade from a 35-31 half-time advantage to a 48-41 deficit with 13:50 to go before starting the winning rally. Both Bill Bradley and Bill Haarlow fouled out before the end of the game, and Princeton dropped quickly out of contention with their departure. From a 57-all tie, the home team broke away with a field goal and then converted 14 straight fouls to bring its record even with the losers at 7-2.

Art Hyland and Haarlow continued in double figures as they have all season with 15 and 10, respectively. The team total of 62 was, however, its low mark for the current campaign.

Bradley continued to add to his reputation as a player no team has been able to stop. The 28 points he made Monday gave him a 28.1 average for the three games away from home, all against the toughest sort of opposition.

In nine starts this season, he has accounted for 234 points, a 26-point average which would break Pete Campbell's one-season record of 301 three games before the season ends. He has also come within one free throw and two points of equaling all-time Princeton records for foul shots (15) and total points (35) in one game—both times in contests played away from Dillon Gym.

REMATCH THURSDAY

Between Sannino and Asbury, Sannino AC, currently leading the YMCA Research and Industrial League with a 5-0 record, will meet Asbury Park for the second time in less than a week Thursday evening at 8:30 at the Princeton High Gymnasium. In an exciting, see-saw contest Saturday at the Asbury Park YMCA court, Sannino nipped the home team 93-89.

Both contests are non-league games. They were arranged by the coaches of each team in order to provide competition during the holiday layover.

In Saturday's contest, neither team was able to widen its margin, as the lead changed hands until the final four minutes of play when Sannino began to pull away. Asbury, however, led by the fine shooting of Al Pollock. Asbury Park, the second ranked team in the statewide YMCA League last season, came up to 90-89 with 30 seconds remaining. Bill Stryker's two free throws in the closing seconds clinched it for the winners.

Sannino's victory was largely a team effort. Dick Cooer, high with 26, was followed by Tom Perks, Carl Belz and Larry Ivan with 19, 18 and 17 respectively. Little All-American selection Walt Mischeler led the losers with 28 points.

Protests Sewer Ordinance.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

In an open meeting of the Township Committee on Saturday morning, December 29, an ordinance was passed for an enormous sewerage system which has wide implications for the Township as a whole . . . The ordinance was passed with all manner of verbal assurances that the ordinance did not mean what it said and that it would be materially amended when critical engineering data not now available are made available. . . .

The crucial point to the Township residents, all Township residents, is that something in the vicinity of $200,000 will be paid out of public funds although the ordinance as passed reads that this will be a local improvement, paid for by assessment against property owners directly affected. Inasmuch as state law limits the assessment to a proper ratio of the improved value of the property, it was recognized in the public meeting that such assessments could not possibly cover the full $342,000. What has been done is to obligate the Township to a sewerage system whose full implications have not been duly considered in the press or in public hearings by the affected public at large.

There was one dissenting vote on the Committee (two were required to postpone the ordinance for a few weeks until further studies could be made) and Mr. Healy in casting that vote pointed out that the implications to the Township had not been fully studied. If this sewerage system goes through, the growth of the Township may well be precipitated with all that that means for increased school costs. Pressures to modify the zoning ordinances which now rest on the lack of water and sewerage facilities can be foreseen.

The sewerage problem of nine houses on Hillside Avenue, which has after all been in existence some ten years, becomes the excuse for a system consisting of over 2½ miles of gravity and force main lines and a pumping station — all of which will cost approximately $342,000 and which will create many problems the community as a whole has not begun to consider and which will assure a very healthy increase in the Township-wide tax rate. There must be a less expensive, satisfactory solution to the Hillside problem.

JANE ALEXANDER
Mrs. George C. Alexander
857 State Road

Editor's note: The amount to be paid from public funds is not spelled out in the ordinance. According to statements made by Committeemen at the hearing, a considerable portion may be deferred and assessed to future property owners. See story, page 3.

AN OPPORTUNITY

Somewhere nearby there is a public relations man (or woman) who wants to "spread his wings" in an exciting, challenging assignment. Perhaps, he's tired of commuting. Maybe he's fed up with all-out commercialism and feels that something soul-satisfying (like serving children) is more rewarding that just selling a product.

Creative Playthings, Inc. is looking for such a person if he has imagination, ingenuity, and, above all, initiative. Age is not as important as energy. He must know his way in all media, including TV, radio, newspapers and magazines.

This is an opportunity for the right person and we'd be glad to talk it over with you Please call HI 6-2221 for an appointment.

APARTMENT FOR RENT. Charming, large 3½ room apartment located in Princeton Borough within walking distance to town. Tremendous closets. Own heating control. Parking space. $135 monthly includes all utilities WA 4-3807.

SWITCH TO KING-SIZE BEAUTYREST by SIMMONS

Get more Sleeping Room plus the Comfort only Beautyrest's pocketed coil construction can give you Want something more to sleep on than the 27 inches of width that represent your half of a double bed (no more width than you enjoyed as a babe on a crib mattress)? If you do, we suggest King-Size Beautyrest, the mattress that is almost 2 feet wider and 5 inches longer than a standard double bed size, the mattress that gives you all the room you'll need for uncrowded, undisturbed sleep.

And you enjoy famous Beautyrest individually pocketed coil construction, providing firm, buoyant, non-sag support to every part of your body. Because of these independently acting coils even the heaviest husband won't disturb his wife's rest. So for the best rest your body ever had switch to King-Size Beautyrest.

WHAT IS "character dance"? . . . The term character dance is a translation from the French "danse de caractere." It is a ballet term used to describe roles which are not straight leads, but "character parts." It also describes the group dances used in ballets and operas which are not purely classical but draw from national dances of various countries for inspiration and form. The Moiseyev Ballet, for instance, dances entirely in the "character" medium—that is, the theatricized form of various national dances. Aparri School of Dance is offering a course in character dance to be given Saturdays, from 1:30 to 2:30, for ten sessions, January 5 through March 9th, at the Studio, 217 Nassau Street, by Virginia Karczewski, of New York City, soloist in the company of Yurek Lazowski, noted Polish dancer and choreographer. This course is open to high school and college students and young adults with some previous training in dancing. Registration will be at the Studio, 217 Nassau Street, on Friday, January 4th, 4 to 6. Additional information may be obtained during the vacation by calling WA 4-1822. 12-20-3t.

Easily maintained grounds. Many trees. $22,500

FACING the rolling acres of Princeton's historic battlefield, this home represents a builder's pride, a designer's skill, and a housewife's delight. From the tip of its special motor-driven TV aerial to its two available separate water systems (both iron and soft), no detail has been overlooked in making this a house of exceptional merit, comfort and gentility. There are five large, sunny bedrooms upstairs. There is a handsome Italian verde antique marble fireplace in the living room downstairs, a large dining room, a quiet paneled study, a powder room and an airy fully screened porch downstairs. The kitchen is a model of efficiency and attractiveness. The grounds have been carefully landscaped by a leading professional. Ours exclusively. $69,000

Upstairs, 3 bright bedrooms, with their own baths. Guest room, master bedrooms and bath are separate. Large basement and garage; terrace, 5 bedrooms, 2½ baths. $52,000

WHERE BUT IN PRINCETON? An old Colonial home in the Borough, with the patina that only a house that has long been lived in and well loved can acquire. On the second floor there are three bedrooms, one with a fireplace and a bath. $55,000

EXCEPTIONAL RENTAL in exceptionally choice Princeton Borough location. The home has four bedrooms and four baths. It also has a living room with a fireplace, dining room, and study. You Should Buy Your Aspirin Here --Where You Get

A SERVICE TO TAXPAYERS

This may come as news to you, but aspirin is one of those drugs that may be of a deductible nature on your federal income tax return.

But to claim it, you must be able to offer proof you bought it.

When you buy it from us, you get that proof. But when you buy it at the corner grocery, or in a department store, or in a restaurant, you are likely to forget about it.

That goes for a lot of other things, too—such as antiseptics, cough and cold preparations, laxatives, and so on.

Our customers like to buy all of their drug supplies from us, because they know they will get the benefit of a complete record of all purchases of a deductible nature.

Our customers get an annual statement (mailed in February) which tells them how much they spent on drugs of a deductible nature. It's called a DrugTax record, and we offer it to our customers free of charge.

Next time you buy aspirin (or any drug item), be sure you're in a store that gives you a DrugTax record. Come income tax time, it can save you money.
